

Life Strategies Feature of the Month: May 2015

Mentorship Pilot Project

As Career Development Practitioners, we know that human connections are one of our most valuable resources. We often encourage our clients to reach out to create a network and seek a mentor because we know that together people can do great things.

That is why BC Career Development Association (BCCDA) has launched the first Mentorship Pilot Project designed for Career Practitioners. Working in partnership with the Centre for Employment Excellence and SkillPlan, they have designed:

- An Online Mentorship Platform for mentees and mentors to connect
- A supportive 5-Step Guide to Mentorship including webinars for both mentee & mentor
- A research survey that will measure the outcomes of the Mentorship Pilot Project

These tools allow you to connect with practitioners across BC as a mentor, mentee or both, and move at your own pace to build a mentoring relationship that works for you.

The BCCDA invites all its members to join them for this ground-breaking initiative.

Take the mentorship survey now (<https://websurvey.srdc.org/s/mentoring-partnerships/>)! All survey participants will receive access to the platform within 6 months. Participants randomly assigned to the test group will have immediate access. Please make sure you have your BCCDA member number handy before you start as this is a requirement to access the survey.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact the BCCDA at mentoring@bccda.org or sign up for their Mentorship Q & A. The next one is scheduled for May 28th.